Hi everyone! My name is Greg Lamping. I am a professional linguist, teacher, and translator. I have loved languages and cultures since my first trip to Colombia where I spent a summer when I was eight years old. My first teaching job was as a volunteer teaching kindergarten to the girls at Escola Lar Hermínia Lupion in Curitiba, Brazil. Since then I have travelled and taught in the US, Latin America, Europe, and Asia. I speak Spanish, Portuguese, and English fluently and have and have studied many other languages for fun. It has been my pleasure to give English Immersion Seminars with Dorly in Brazil and Colombia. I love music, singing and playing the guitar for my own amazement and amusement. My wife Mary and I have three children: Mariana, Rebecca, and Joseph, and three grandchildren: Hayden, Ava, and Remi. I am very excited to meet all of you! See you soon!

Susan Stoddard is a native of Colorado, but has been in Wyoming for thirty years.
