D. Serikbayev East Kazakhstan Technical University holds the international online seminar "Green University".

The purpose of the seminar is to create a permanent platform for the exchange of experience and discussion of aspects of the implementation of "green" initiatives and sustainable development goals in universities. The seminar program unites Kazakhstani and foreign universities that have already achieved high results in this field, and those that are just starting this work.

D. Serikbayev EKTU is an annual participant of UI GreenMetric, holds a leading position in the rating for Kazakhstan and actively supports "green" initiatives and the promotion of the UN SDGs in universities.

The seminar will be held with the participation of the leading international green university ranking UI GreenMetric World University Ranking, the Coalition for a "green" Economy and Development G-Global, Kazakhstan Association of Regional Environmental Initiatives "ECOJER", representatives of leading universities in the field of the seminar.

The seminar program includes presentations by speakers of Kazakhstani and foreign universities dedicated to the implementation of sustainable development goals at universities, reducing the carbon footprint, options for solving issues of separate waste collection and recycling, improving energy conservation and many other issues regarding the "green" policy of universities.

More than 30 universities of Kazakhstan are invited as participants. Some of them are participant of UI GreenMetric ranking.
